

Prioritising Topics

1. In the table below and give each topic a score for each category. Score: 1 = Excellent → 3 = Just Alright → 5 = Very Poor
2. Total up the scores you have given each topic.
3. Topics with the highest scores should have the highest priority

Subject	Topics	Score 1-5 in each column				Total	Priority

Time Management for Revision

How will you use your time effectively?

- The key rule is that each day must have at least 1 session where you spend preparing and revising.
- Mark on the timetable any other commitments – how many slots are now left for revision?
- Each subject should then be allocated slots on the timetable
- If need be, the 1st slot should be dedicated to organising the notes and copying up any missing information and completing homework.
- Most slots should be allocated to the topics that have the greatest priority
